

SPRING 2005

Retail Rattle

• A PUBLICATION OF THE JUVENILE PRODUCTS MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION •

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

As spring comes into light, we are very close to the 2005 International JPMA Show in Orlando, Florida.

I'm very happy to report that we still have a steady stream of contracts coming in daily. We already have more than 400 exhibitors, 80 more than last year! I'm also glad to report that we have approximately 176 new exhibiting companies and more than 200 companies who exhibited in 2004 returning. This is of course extremely positive and a good indication of the excitement that everybody feels over our new venue.

Registrations from buyers also stream in daily and if previous years are a good indication, we will have great buyer attendance. To date, we have more than 1,700 buyers, manufacturers reps, associate members and press registered to attend. All categories of the trade are well represented, international, e-tailer, large retailers and the specialty stores. We are particularly encouraged by the increase in specialty stores. One important factor in the decision for many specialty stores is the representation of furniture manufacturers among the exhibitors. I'm pleased to announce that we have a considerably stronger line up for you at this year's show and we are in contact with more that hopefully will come and show their products.

As you have hopefully already seen, we are pleased to offer a number of seminars during the Show. There are a variety of magazines that will share their research and forecasts as to where the industry is headed as well as product testing workshops from CSPC and Intertek. Attending the seminars will be extremely easy as they will take place right on the show floor. Every seminar will be given each day of the Show, so both buyers and exhibitors will have plenty of chances to gain important industry insights.

Please join us for the annual industry party on Tuesday evening May 24 at Universal's Islands of Adventure. Enjoy the atmosphere and network with your friends in the industry, and take advantage of the entertainment and special rides available to us. All proceeds collected from this party will be donated to K.I.D.S. to assist their tsunami relief efforts.

The rest of this newsletter provides valuable Show information in addition to other useful items so be sure to review thoroughly.

I look forward to seeing everyone in Orlando!

Industry Party

Join JPMA at Universal's Islands of Adventure for great food and fantastic fun at this year's Industry Party. This year, JPMA will donate all proceeds from the Industry Party to Kids In Distressed Situations, Inc. (K.I.D.S.) to assist its tsunami relief efforts.

In the wake of the tragic tsunamis that struck on December 26, 2004, K.I.D.S immediately launched into a disaster relief effort, teaming up with corporations across the globe to supply products to the children and youth impacted by the terrible tragedy. While the support thus far has been overwhelming, the relief efforts continue.

To contribute to the cause, JPMA will donate 100% of the proceeds collected from the Industry Party to K.I.D.S. for tsunami relief. Attendees are invited to take part in a thrilling evening, complete with hors d'oeuvres and entertainment, all while supporting a worthy cause.

Tickets for the much anticipated event are $20 if purchased before May 9, $30 thereafter. Shuttle service will be provided to the Industry Party from any participating JPMA hotel from 7:00-11:00 PM.

Educational Offerings

This year's show has an added bonus for attendees, educational sessions from leading industry representatives providing consumer buying insight and forecasts as to where the industry is headed.

American Baby Magazine presents results of the 2005 Hispanic Baby Products Study and examines the attitudes, behaviors and baby product purchases of U.S. Spanish-dominant new mothers. Topics include breast/bottle-feeding, baby formula and food, baby hard goods, baby gift registry and brand preferences, as well as attitudes and psychographics.

Baby Talk/Parenting Magazines presents What Really Matters To Moms... About Buying Your Brand and Shopping in Your Store. Go beyond the typical fact-finding to understand what Moms' top priorities are and how these priorities affect her brand choices and purchase behavior. Get the inside scoop on how to "speak mom" - a language that gives you a real advantage in the marketplace.

Learn about present findings from one of the most current parenting research studies available in a presentation from iVillage Parenting/Lamaze. ParenTrends 2005 exposes the attitudes and desires of today's moms, giving manufacturers and retailers insight into "mom motivators." Key market segments will be examined, including: The Hispanic mom market; The Forty Something mom market; and Gen Y moms (moms to be).

The Editors of Fit Pregnancy Magazine present the "A-Ha" Moment: How We Find And Feature The Products And Concepts That Blow Us Away. Find out how Fit Pregnancy covers products, test products, past products that have WOWED them and why, successes and disappointments, where they think the industry is going and their wish list of products and concepts.

Child Magazine will present The Modern Parent. Learn what today's mothers and fathers are looking for in products and how health and safety conscious they are. Today's parents want the very best for their children--how do they make their decisions, and what do their attitudes say about today's families? Get an overview of the trends and attitudes as seen by editors.

Parents Media Group covers what makes the Gen Y mom tick- what toy manufacturers need to know about her, and why they should not overlook this vital next generation of toy buyers. The Gen Y mom is a bundle of contradictions in many ways. She's young (25 or under), hip, very interested in fashion, music and style. She's a mom, but she's not the khaki-pants and sneakers type-she may have a tattoo or belly ring. She's tech savvy: she's been raised on computers, gets parenting info from the Web and buys a lot online, is into text messaging, iPods and other high tech toys. At the same time, she may be more conservative politically than her older counterparts, she is very focused on her family, and she may opt out of the workplace once she has kids; having a career is not necessarily her focus.

JPMA Mission Statement

The Juvenile Products Manufacturers Association exists to advance the interests, growth, and well-being of the juvenile products industry through advocacy, public relations, information sharing, and business development opportunities.

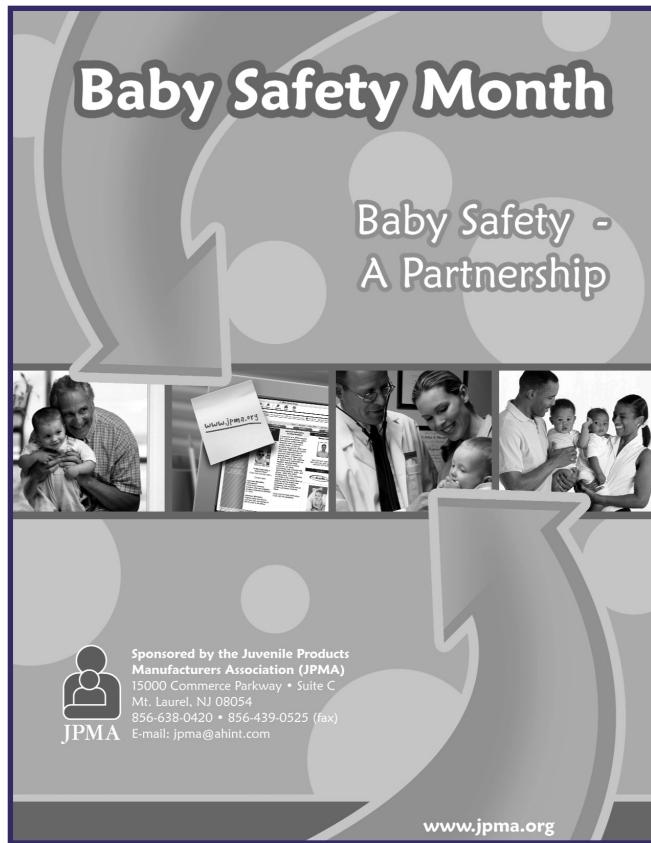

Baby Safety – A Partnership

2005 Baby Safety Month Theme Announced

We're all familiar with the popular phrase, "It takes a village to raise a child." In celebration of Baby Safety Month 2005, JPMA is embracing this slogan, and focusing on Baby Safety as a partnership between mothers, manufacturers, retailers, and JPMA.

Baby Safety Month, sponsored annually every September by JPMA, exists to educate parents and caregivers on the importance of the safe use and selection of juvenile products.

This year, JPMA will provide all of the Baby Safety Month materials electronically. Posters, press releases, logos, suggestions for in-store promotion and more will be available at www.jpma.org for you to download conveniently and use at your discretion. Materials will be available earlier this year, giving you plenty of time to promote accordingly. Materials will be available online at www.jpma.org within the coming weeks!

New & Improved

JPMA's "Soft Goods Insert" is new and improved! The newly redesigned, slightly larger version contains more detailed guidelines for infant bedding and crib safety available in one bilingual sheet.

JPMA designed product inserts to provide information on the selection and safe use of baby products. The inserts give tips on safely caring for baby on a daily basis, not just when juvenile products are in use.

The information contained on the insert was developed by JPMA. The information is consistent with advice being promoted by the CPSC as well as the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) and the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD), in an attempt to promote public awareness of safe environments for infants.

Retailers can order up to 500 total inserts free, plus the cost of shipping and handling. Each additional increment of 500 costs $10 plus shipping and handling. If you are interested in ordering, please visit www.jpma.org, fax your request to (856) 439-0525, or mail your order to:
